

Gawthorpe Hall Walled Garden

The National Trust opened up the walled garden to Visitors at Gawthorpe Hall, allowing them the opportunity to explore the grounds and meet a beekeeper

Discovering the bees of Britain and the difference between a honeybee, bubble bees, mining bees, cavity nesting bees and cuckoo bees

Including seeing a replica Asian Hornet and how to report this predator when spotted using the Asian Watch App

Visitors also got to see how honeybees build their nest from wax, look at the components which make up a bee hive, how honeybees find pollen, nectar, store honey and why the location produces different types of honey and health benefits
